

Second Annual Summer Symposium

To be held Friday June 4th, 2010 on our Corsham Court Campus

CALL FOR PAPERS

We are pleased to announce a call for papers for the second annual Summer Symposium. This event is designed to showcase the excellent research in progress by graduate and postgraduate students at the University. This event is being run entirely by students and provides an excellent opportunity to present your research in a semi-formal but still supportive environment. Last year's Symposium was a thoroughly enjoyable and interesting day, with a selection of fascinating presentations from students representing nearly every school at Bath Spa.

Graduate and postgraduate students from all schools and departments are invited to submit a proposal for a paper or panel of papers to be presented. We are willing to consider work from undergraduate students, but work from graduate/postgraduate students will receive priority. We would also like to encourage non-traditional presentations from students doing creative work. Space permitting, we would be happy to accommodate installations, films, performance based presentations or any other format which would suit the presentation of your work. We will also consider research posters if there are students who would like to present their work in that format.

Proposals should be a maximum of 250 words in length, detailing the subject of your presentation and/or panel. Please attach a brief summary of your research and a picture which you feel sums up your work would also be helpful. Please submit your proposal to resnetbathspa@hotmail.com by March 31st, 2010. Questions or queries about the Symposium can also be sent to this email address.
