Programme Overview

The Postgraduate Certificate in SEN Coordination is designed to enable Special Educational Needs Coordinators (SENCo) professionals, , to complete the academic requirements for the National Award for SEN Coordination (NA SENCo). The NA SENCo is a mandatory award for all SENCosnew to post (DfE and DoH, 2015). SENCos who wish to achieve the National Award for SENCo must complete 60 credits at M level and must be able to demonstrate their have met the National Award for SENCo Learning Outcomes (NCTL, 2014).

The Postgraduate Certificate critically evaluates the role of the SENCo, including operational and strategic aspects, and considers how to manage the role effectively. Issues related to the role of SENCo in both theory and practice, including evidence based practice, leadership and management, including data, finance and personnel as well as working with stakeholders are examined from theoretical, policy and practical perspectives. The modules examine these aspects within the context of SEN and wider educational policy

Modules are taught through teaching sessions, typically lectures, workshops and whole day teaching sessions. Tutorial support is offered, particularly for writing at Masters Level. Assessment of the modules is through coursework. The nature of the assignments varies to enable the students to develop a range of critical skills, independent thinking and academic rigour. Students are encouraged to become active participants in their own learning, developing original perspectives on the issues and topics discussed through wide reading and reflection on both their experiences and the literature.

Due to the professional nature of the award, students are not able to apply Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL)

For students who wish to continue and complete a full Master's degree, they are able to accredit their prior learning achieved through the Postgraduate Certificate in SEN Coordination towards the MA: Inclusive Education award.

Programme Aims

1. To enable students to develop an in-depth knowledge and understanding of the SENCo role, informed by current practice, scholarship and research.
2. To enable the development of a critical awareness of current issues and developments in the area of Special Educational Needs and their role as SENCo.
3. To enable students to develop the ability to apply research to professional situations, both practical and theoretical.
4. To enable students to develop the ability to use a range of techniques and research methods applicable to their professional activities through supported, scaffolded activities.

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs) (NB These ILOs are at level 7 of the FHEQ)

Subject offered as single programme

Postgraduate Certificate SEN Coordination				Status
Level	Code	Title	Credits	Single	Joint
7	SEN7100-30	The SENCo as a leader: policy to practice	30	C
7	SEN7101-30	The SENCo as a leader: provision for SEN	30	C

Assessment methods

A range of summative assessment tasks will be used to test the Intended Learning Outcomes in each module. These are indicated in the attached assessment map which shows which tasks are used in which modules.

Students will be supported in their development towards summative assessment by appropriate formative exercises.

Work experience and placement opportunities

The majority of students on the award will be working in educational contexts. Such experiences will be drawn upon to develop critical reflection. In addition to this, students working towards the National Award for SENCo will be required to complete a Professional Portfolio which evidences the meeting of the National Award for SENCo Learning Outcomes (NCTL, 2014).

Graduate Attributes

	Bath Spa Graduates...	In the Postgraduate Certificate in SEN Coordination this means...
1	Will be employable: equipped with the skills necessary to flourish in the global workplace, able to work in and lead teams	Students who exit the award, with the National Award for SENCo, will be qualified SENCos and will therefore have obtained the qualification to enable teachers to work as a SENCo in any mainstream primary or secondary school in England. Students will have demonstrated, through their professional portfolios that they have met both the Level 7 and National Award Learning Outcomes related to the development of their leadership skills at both operational and strategic levels. Many of our students go on to become assistant, deputy and head teachers.
2	Will be able to understand and manage complexity, diversity and change	Students undertaking the Postgraduate Certificate are teaching professionals working within a variety of educational contexts. The award focuses on the development of leadership skills, required of SENCos, to manage and implement change. Due to the nature of the SENCo role, students will develop the skills to understand diversity, through the exploration of inclusive educational policy.
3	Will be creative: able to innovate and to solve problems by working across disciplines as professional or artistic practitioners	Students are expected to apply their learning in their professional contexts. Module two focuses on an exploration of professional practice, which requires the students to critically reflect and evaluate one aspect of their SENCo practice. Throughout sessions students are required to problem solve, reflect and innovate evidence based solutions for their educational contexts.
4	Will be digitally literate: able to work at the interface of creativity and technology	Students will be able to demonstrate an ability to use technology in the development of their own practice and that of others. Students will be introduced to subject specific technology, which they will be using in the workplace.

5	Will be internationally networked: either by studying abroad for part of the their programme, or studying alongside students from overseas	Students will be able to draw on the international networks at BSU, to build and extend relationships within the sector on a local, national and global level. Students will be expected to explore international perspectives on SEN and inclusion.
6	Will be creative thinkers, doers and makers	Students will develop creative thinking skills through reflection of their own professional practice in line with current research evidence. Students will apply such skills and will demonstrate the application of their learning in a practical sense in their work place.
7	Will be critical thinkers: able to express their ideas in written and oral form, and possessing information literacy	Students will demonstrate criticality in their reading and writing activities and an ability to communicate in their assessments, both formatively and summatively.
8	Will be ethically aware: prepared for citizenship in a local, national and global context	The political and philosophical underpinning of this Postgraduate Certificate ensures the development of value perspectives.
