

IMPORTANCE OF SUBMITTING FIRST TIME, ON TIME

1

Your tutor is there to help:

When you hand in your work on time, your tutor is available to answer questions and support you.

2

Less stress later:

If you delay your submission, you might end up with lots of deadlines at once later in the year—which can be stressful.

3

Stay on track with your course:

Late submissions can affect your progress and might make it harder to move on to the next stage of your studies. Check our progression rules.

4

Graduate with your friends:

If you don't submit on time, you might miss out on graduating alongside your peers.

5

Don't let your group down:

If your work is part of a group project, delaying your submission can impact everyone in your group.

6

Keep your funding safe:

Delaying your submission could affect your entitlement to student funding, especially if your onward progression is impacted.

7

Better results:

When you submit on time, your learning is fresh and you're more likely to do well.
